Even Winds Chill Down

[Music and lyrics: Tero Arteli]

I cried tonight and to think of You,
You are too far away right now.
But when You get back and I see You again, when I feel Your hand in mine, and I taste Your lips
on mine,

even winds chill down, even winds chill down.

When I saw You the first time,
that's not so long ago,
somehow I felt we belong together,
You shined so brightly, that was real,

even winds chill down, even winds chill down.

We're standing here now and seeing our future,
the fortune smiles for us for sure.
We'll hold together for our life, that I believe,
the good and bad times we'll survive with our love,

and even winds chill down, even winds chill down,
