

Between The Moon And The Sun
[Music and lyrics: Tero Arteli]

Far away from my own sunhine, under the moon of a foreign land we sat down and drank some booze, having a good time with all my friends.

Some time in the evening
we all remembered home, remembered our own families and home far away.

Between the moon and the sun
there is all Your life
Between the moon and the sun,
You will know who You are.

When You are far enough You're thinking who You are, It's good to think it sometimes, are You're happy and why's that.

Between the moon and the sun
there is all Your life
Between the moon and the sun,
You will know who You are.

Between the moon and the sun
there is all Your life
Between the moon and the sun,

You will know who You are.
